

The Beauty
of Washington
in Springtime

One of the most beautiful spots in America at this time of year. The rose fence, 1,500 feet in length, in grounds of the Department of Agriculture. The photo shows a single pink rambler with one thousand blooms.

By International.

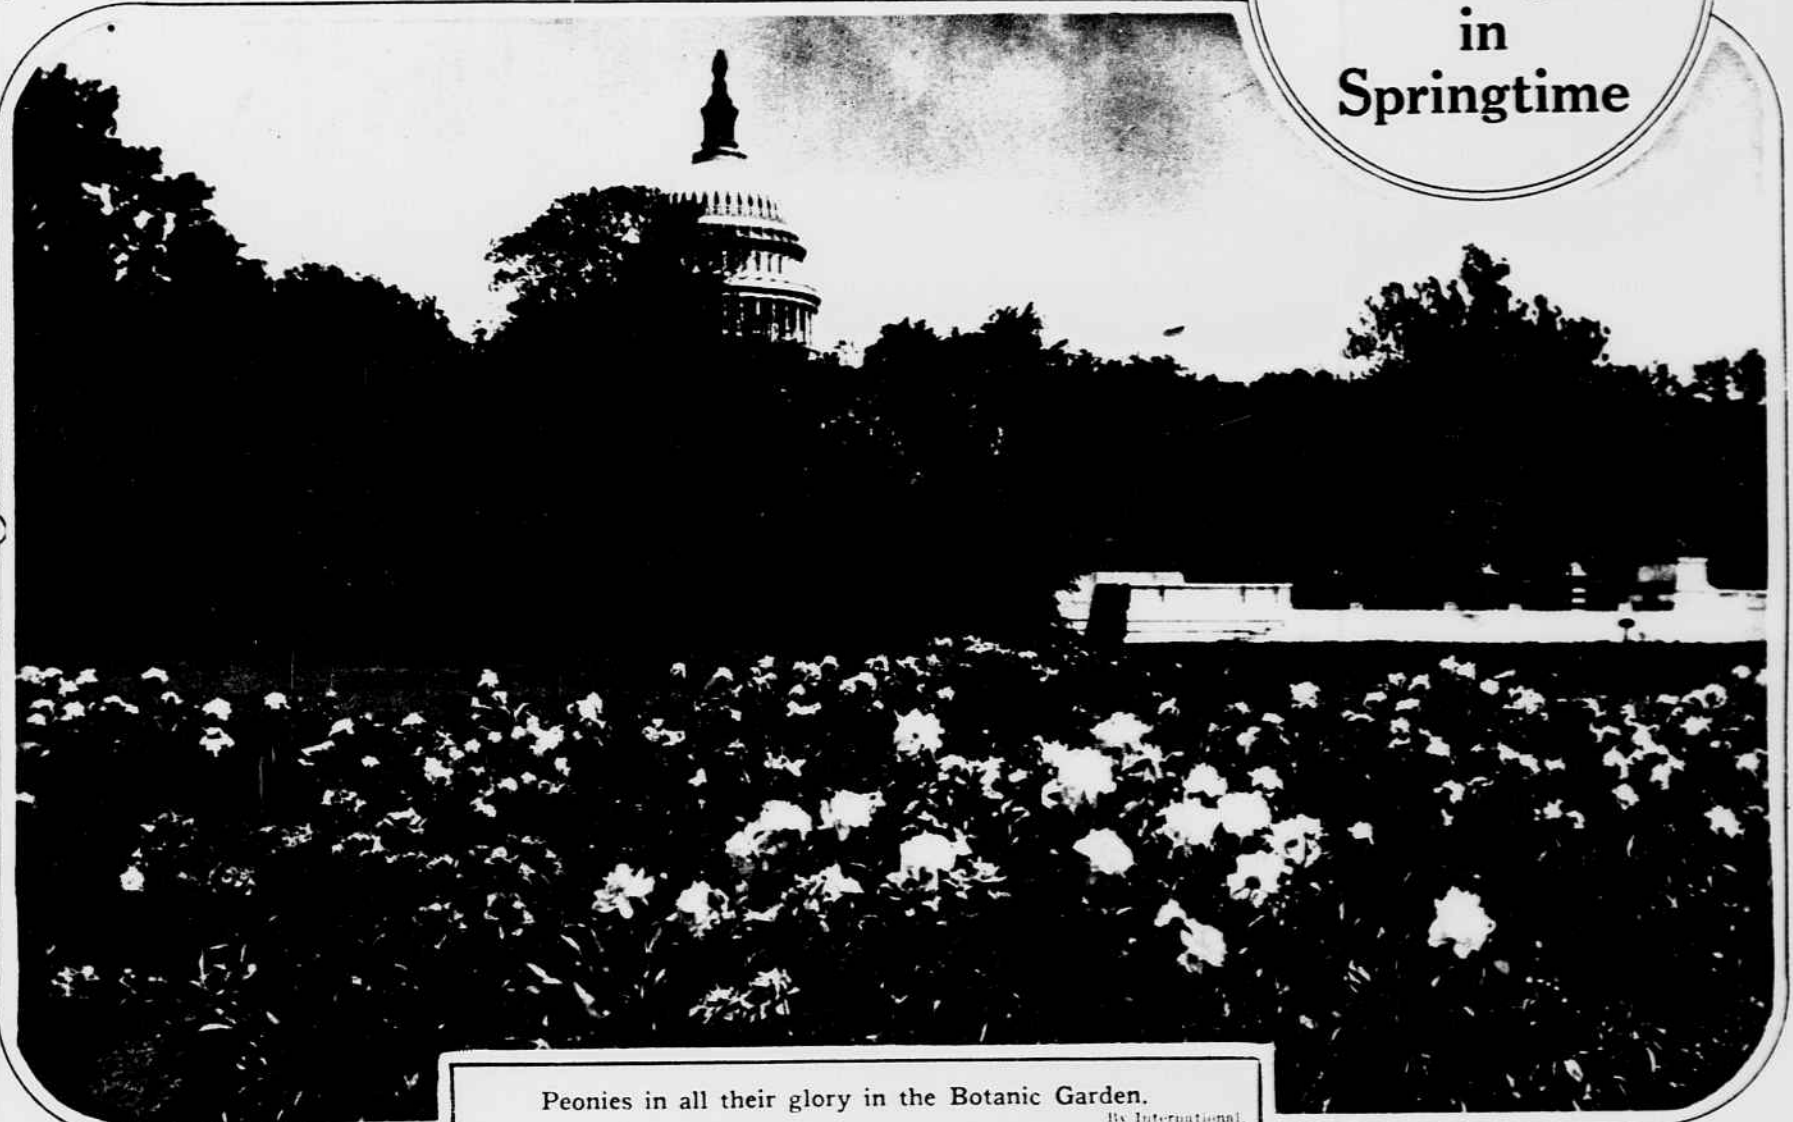

Purple iris in front of the Senate office building—a beauty spot worth a long journey to see.

By International.

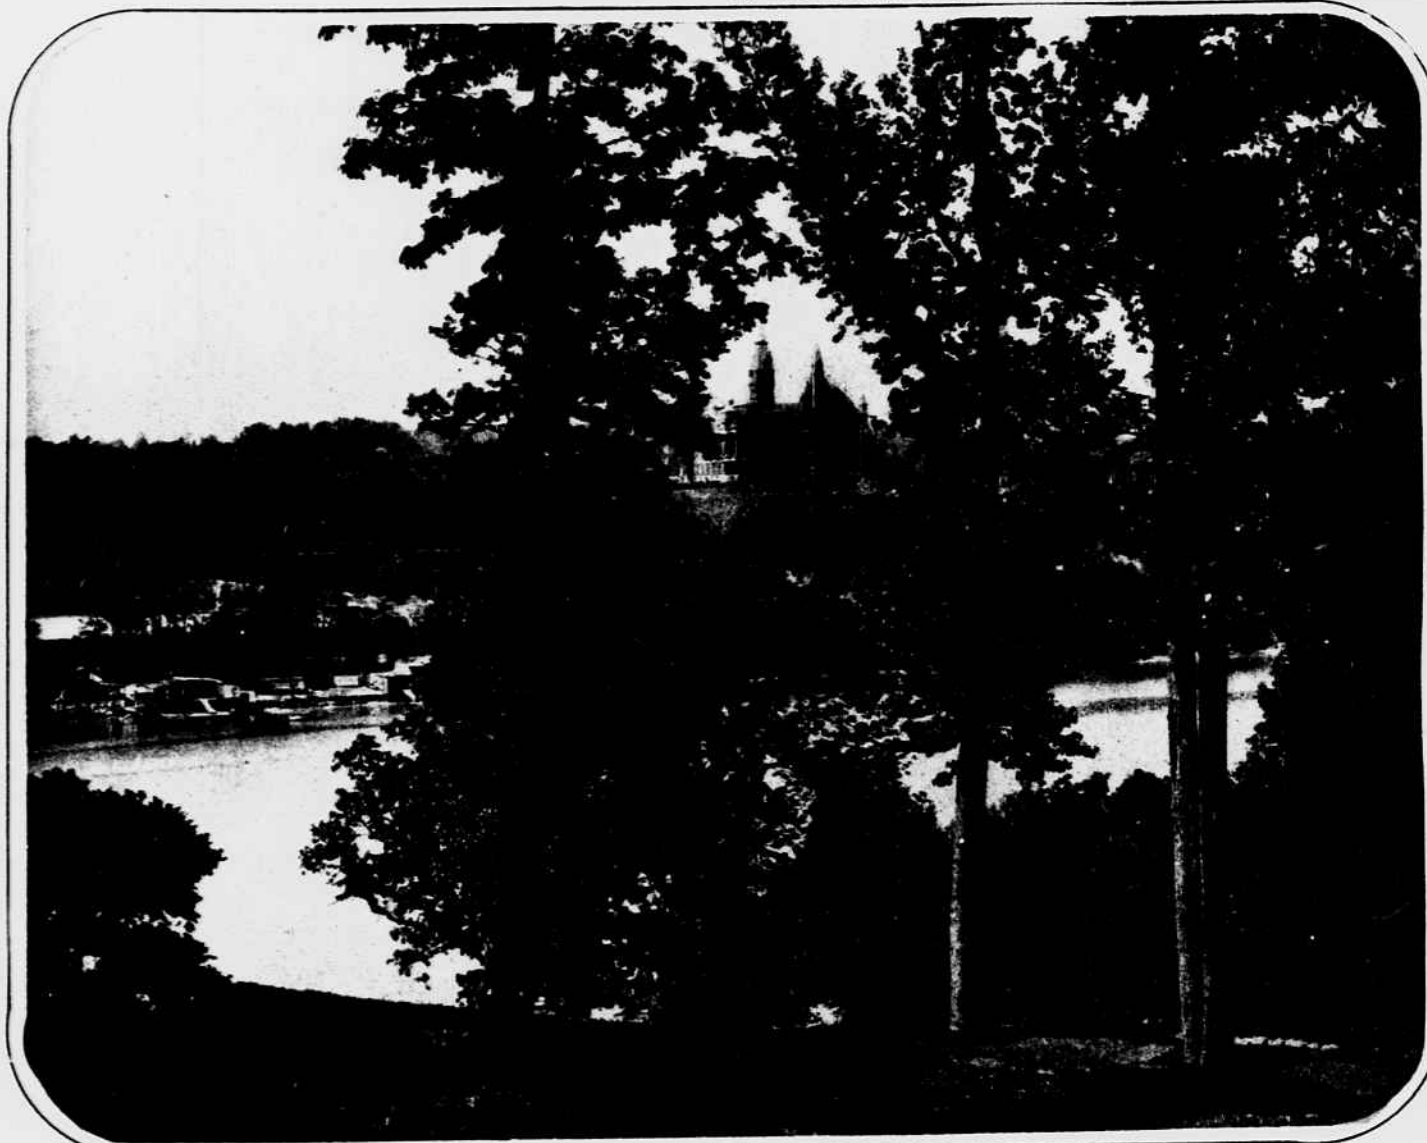

Japanese crab-apple tree in full bloom in yard of the Katie Dunn home, 13th and Harvard streets northwest

By Pridgeon, Staff Photographer.

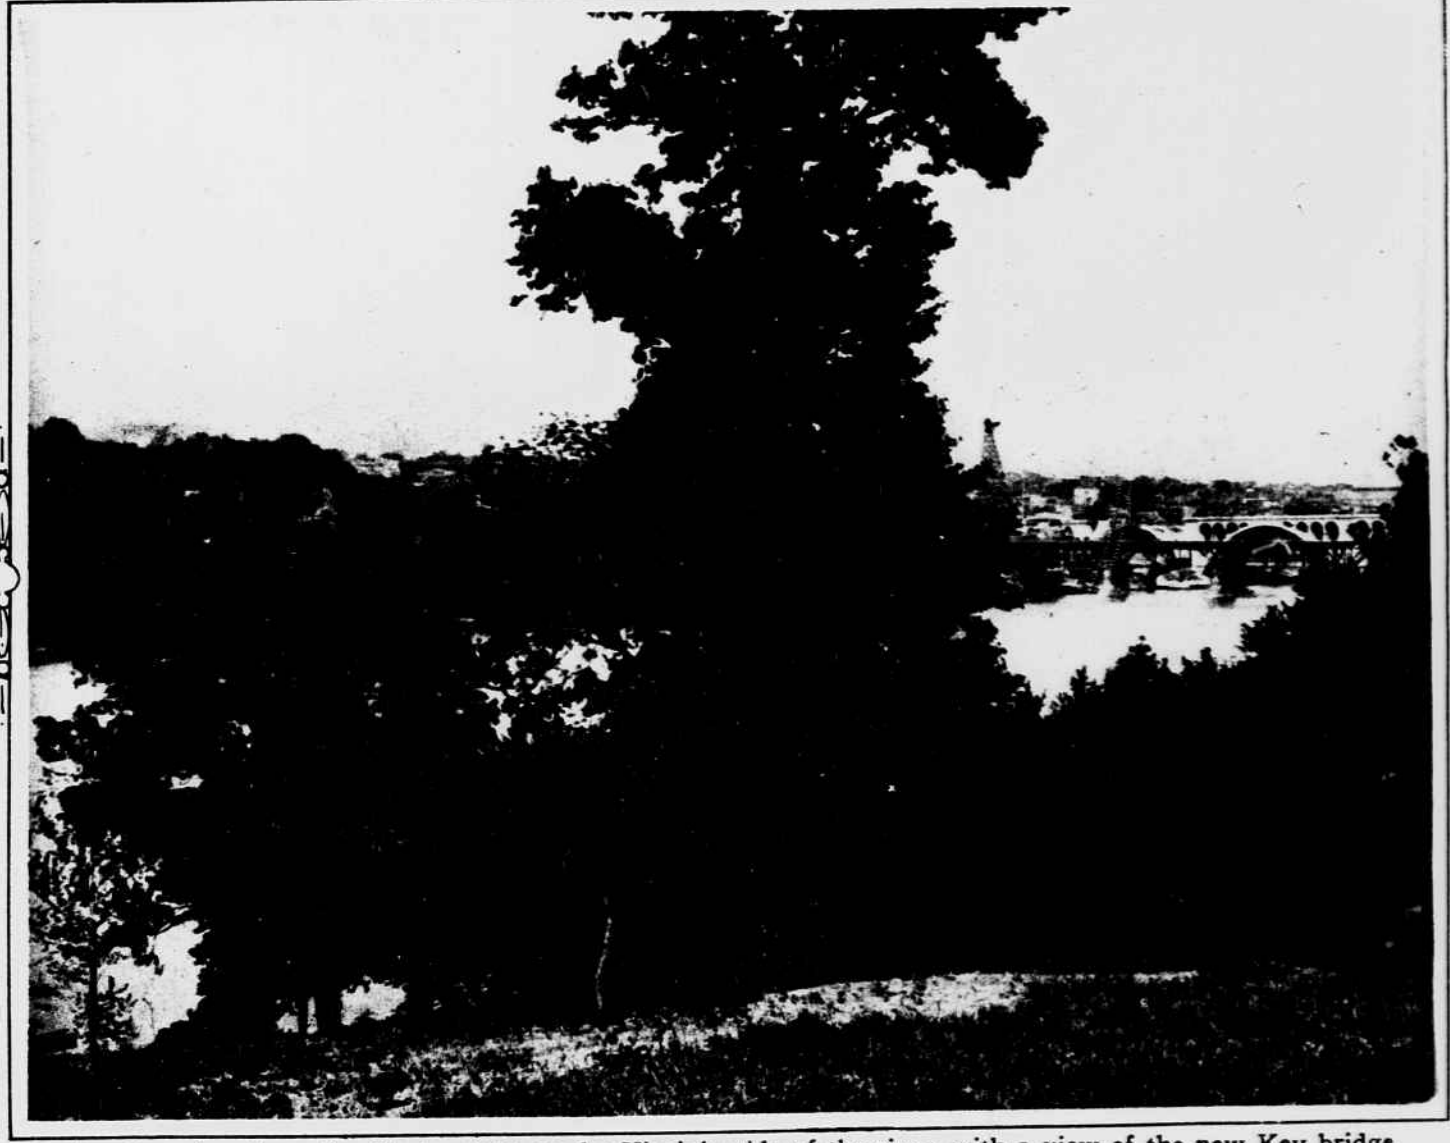

Peonies in all their glory in the Botanic Garden.

By International.

Georgetown University in a woodland frame. Photo taken from the beautiful home of C. B. Buck, on the Virginia side of the Potomac.

By Pridgeon, Staff Photographer.

Another view from the Buck estate on the Virginia side of the river, with a view of the new Key bridge in the distance at right.

By Pridgeon, Staff Photographer.